

BOXING

BY FREDERICK J. HASKIN
Director
Janesville Daily Gazette, Information
Bureau, Washington, D. C.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 6.—Boxing seems to be in for a boom all over the United States, as a result of the great amateur boxing game which was built up in the American army during the war.

In the first place, the army is turning back into the civilian life, thousands of men who are trained boxers, and many of them have a keen interest in the sport. And in the second place, the army has worked out a new attitude toward boxing, and a new attitude toward it, which makes clear the difference between professional pugilism and clean amateur boxing.

The army took boxing out of the professional and commercial class and placed it on an amateur basis, just like football, or any other game in which a man's courage and skill are put to the test. In the great international bouts, in which the top cream of the amateur boxers competed, the men fought with no higher reward for winning in sight than a safety razor. That was the prize in prizes. Usually there was no prize except glory. The American, the French and the British all fought on equal terms. They insisted on sport for sport's sake.

Game Is Improving.
Already signs of improvement and better understanding of the boxing rules are appearing. New boxing associations to promote clean boxing are being formed in various parts of the country. Out in the northwest an organization has been formed which is expected to have a far-reaching effect in the development and elevation of the boxing game in that part of the country. It is known as the Western Amateur Boxing Association, for the promotion of boxing. Its object, as set forth by the secretary, is "to place boxing upon a plane that will make it free from criticism; also to protect boxers and boxers alike from the many evils that have beset them in the past. This will be done by following strictly the regulations and rules as prescribed by the government during the war."

At the same time state legislatures which have opposed boxing from time immemorial are passing laws making it legal to conduct amateur boxing bouts. The legislatures, however, favor the boxing game as carried on in the army. They oppose professional pugilism, and prize fights that are put on merely for the sake of making money.

Lowden Vetoes Boxing Bill.
A bill to allow boxing was recently killed by Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois. In vetoing the bill he said: "I favor boxing. I had hoped that a bill would be presented that would authorize boxing as we have learned to know it at the military cantonments during the last two years. The more I study the matter, the more I am disappointed in it. So far as I can see it provides all the accessories for a prize fight, except the decision."

Dr. Joseph E. Fayer, head of athletics at Princeton university, and a member of the commission on training camp activities, is the man who introduced boxing into the United States army. Shortly after accepting a place on the committee, he visited the Canadian military headquarters at Toronto. There he became a thorough convert to the idea that boxing should have a place in our military training. He presented this belief to the 30 men first called into the camps as physical directors, at their initial meeting at Princeton. Most of these men were college coaches and heads of college sports. They were not only trained in the slow to be convinced that boxing was what was needed. But they were willing to give it a trial, and the results obtained have completely vindicated Dr. Fayer's position.

Boxing did not take hold so readily among the men themselves. Many of them were from sections of the country where the game had fallen into disrepute, and they had been taught by both promoters and adversaries. Also, they did not notice the advantage of being pummeled or getting a wallop on the nose. They could not see the value of the game, and they would not meet German bayonets. They wanted guns.

Boxing Became Popular.
But slowly the idea that an efficient soldier must not only know the technique of offense and defense, but must also be "charged" with fighting spirit, percolated down through the ranks. Boxing became popular because of the tests and challenges that came about the same time the boxing was introduced.

ARBITRATION BASIS OF LEAGUE SAYS WILSON IN KANSAS CITY

U.S. FRENCH BONDS ARE TIGHTENED

LAFAYETTE-MARNE EXERCISES COMMEMORATE TWO WAR VICTORIES.

JUSSERAND IS CHIEF SPEAKER

Messages Are Read From Poincare, Pershing, Wood and Lansing.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, Sept. 6.—Ambassador Jusserand of France was the principal speaker at the Franco-American exercises held here in commemoration of the anniversary of the first battle of the Marne. Messages of felicitation and congratulations on the victory of allied arms were read from President Poincare of France, General Pershing, Major-General Wood, and Secretary Lansing.

The governments represented included France and the United States, Great Britain, Canada, Italy, Japan, Belgium, Finland, Greece, and the Netherlands. The exercises were held at the Lafayette monument in Union Square which were participated in by the society of the Cincinnati Sons of the Colonial Wars, and the Society of Founders and Patriots of America.

Poincare Sends Message.
From the president of the French republic. "In the hours of trial and of the needed common efforts the American people and the French people united their thoughts in order to commemorate at once the birth of Lafayette and the battle of the Marne. How could our two nations not seize, in this year of internal peace the occasion to celebrate together the same anniversary."

"To the people of the United States I send the greetings of the French republic to the American soldiers and sailors in arms. To the American mothers who have lost their sons on the battlefields of Europe, the homage of my profound sympathy."

Pershing Hears From.
From General Pershing (Paris): "I sincerely regret that I shall not be present in New York for the exercises celebrating the Lafayette-Marne anniversary. The first celebration of this joint anniversary since the signing of peace should be fraught with new significance to all Americans. Lafayette and the Marne saved the world from an overwhelming disaster. The memory of Lafayette and of the Marne must be kept fresh in the minds of every generation of our people."

From Major General Wood, (Chicago): "Had it been possible to be present, I should have been able to pay my tribute of respect and affection to France and express my hope for the continuance of the warmest friendship and relations between the two countries. The day of which has responded to the call of the other at a moment of great national peril."

Lansing Speaks of T. R.
Ambassador Jusserand in his address said that "the war has now ended. It has shown that the cause of humanity is stronger than the cause of democracy than that of Joffre, the victor of the Marne. Both taught that men might be free from autocracy. Both saw the cause of humanity triumphant. To these two great sons of France the new world and the old world owe a debt of gratitude which can never be forgotten while mankind endures the shadow of war."

School Days! Youths Getting All 'Dolled' Up

Monday is the first day of school! After the long vacation the kids are for the most part glad to start in again.

In every home the children are sharpening up new pencils, fondling ink and pencil tablets, and organizing search parties for the report cards which were hung aside last June. Kids are breaking in new shoes, the girls planning on wearing their next to best dress in honor of the first day, and the boys assenting to don the Sunday suit.

There is much speculation about the new teacher and who's going to sit next to who, and if Sara May is going to be the teacher's pet.

All of the schools have been thoroughly cleaned and, as H. H. Faust, city superintendent of schools, stated today, the germs chased into the basement, cornered and killed. New blackboards have been installed in the Garfield school. Decorating and hanging has been done on the Washington and Lincoln schools.

Everything is in readiness to start Monday morning. The principals of each of the public schools are giving the teachers instructions pertaining to their building the first day.

No one is ever late the first day. There's always too much doing, too much to see.

WORLD LEAGUE STEP IN RIGHT DIRECTION SAYS NOTED WRITER

"I do not think the league of nations as it stands today is perfect, by any means, and it is a good start in the right direction—it is the best we have. Unless we start now we are bound to have more wars, for war is a social disease. The league may be tried again and again and keep on trying until we perpetuate peace. As I say, it is not perfect, but even if it is only 20 percent good, then I say it is better to have that little good than to drop it all together."

With this statement, William Allen White, distinguished Kansas author, editor and war correspondent, summed up his stand on the league of nations as given by him in Paris during the time of its formation, before 60 men and women at a luncheon given at the Mayers hotel, this noon. He was introduced by John A. F. Healy, his talk was educational and interesting throughout serving to give his listeners first-hand information about the peace conference and the world league. With his sincerity, enthusiasm and never-failing sense of humor, he won his listeners from the start and carried them with him to Paris.

Plays Lone Hand

"Colonel House talked things over with me and gave me information and assistance such evening. He was helpful, candid and a high visioned man. However, it didn't take us long to find out that Wilson was playing a lone hand. Right here, I want to say that Wilson is absolutely sincere, has the courage and determination and the fine high wisdom of the idealist which brought about our democracy."

"But for all that, I abhor his methods. He is a man who does things. He is an idealist, but that is infinitely better than to have a practical man with no ideal. I admire him though for the things he has done. The day he has tried to do them. But being what he is, he could not do otherwise—he could not do team work, he did not wholly trust the men with him."

NVE SOLDIER EDUCATIONAL BILL PASSED

THIRD ADDRESS IN MISSOURI IS HEARD BY ABOUT 15,000.

BOYCOTT URGED AS PUNISHMENT

Peace Pact Is "Shot Through" By American Principles, He Declares.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Sept. 6.—The work of the special session of the Wisconsin legislature was brought to a close Friday night when all bills named in the call enacted into law. It will probably be a day or so before there can be a final adjournment of the legislature, but most of the members left for their homes last night.

State Sets Record.

With the enactment of the soldiers' education bill, the Wisconsin legislature has set the high mark, surpassing all other states in the union in the bonuses and privileges which it has conferred upon the soldiers who served from Wisconsin in the world war.

The education bill will aid in the schooling of upwards of 10,000 soldiers from Wisconsin. The cost for the next year is estimated at $3,800,000 and for the five years, under which this education is available the cost will reach $15,000,000.

Blue Sky Law Changed.

Final action was taken by both houses of the legislature on the new Blue sky law. The law as now amended allows the taking of subscriptions for sale of class A securities before the permit is issued upon giving a bond of $20,000 to protect anyone signing the subscriptions for such securities, the sale not being consummated until the matter has been passed upon by the Wisconsin railroad commission in which America has devolved her life.

OCTOBER 8 SET FOR MAMMOTH WELCOME HOME CELEBRATION

Janesville will pay due honor to her soldiers who served in the world war in a mammoth welcome home celebration to be held Wednesday, October 8. A general holiday will be declared throughout the city and every one will be asked to join in the celebration of the greatest day in the city's history. It was agreed that the date would be subject to change.

Thirty-three members of the welcome home and community building committee, of which the chamber of commerce reached this decision at a special meeting held at the chamber last night. The program for the great celebration was left in the hands of Rev. M. G. Benson, chairman of the program committee. He together with other members of the committee began making plans for the celebration today.

By a unanimous vote, the committee endorsed the community building project as a memorial to service men but decided to take no action at this time. The matter was referred to the building committee headed by F. F. Lewis.

Those who attended the meeting were: F. F. Lewis, H. S. Lovejoy, Leo Alwood, Charles Muggleton, H. F. Dwyer, E. C. Benson, J. Cunningham, Fred J. Schmitt, Charles L. Hanson, Rev. Henry Williamson, F. E. Green, P. P. Starr, R. G. Cunningham, Mayor T. E. Walsh, F. E. Buss, A. E. Madh, E. J. Manion, Rev. W. G. Sullivan, Robert Bostwick, William Sullivan, T. O. Howe, W. H. Dougherty, George G. Sutherland, M. O. Mout, and J. P. Cullen; Mesdames S. W. Wadler, Holmes, W. P. Mason, Herbert Ford, and the Misses Mary Mout and Gertrude Cobb.

Rich Peeress Is War Widow

Lady Sarah Wilson.
London.—Although her husband, one of the world's heroes, was killed in the first battle of Ypres, Lady Sarah Wilson only recently received notification of his death. He had been on the missing list since the day of his death, and she had not until all of the British prisoners in German prison camps had been accounted for that the government acknowledged his fate.

Text of Wilson's Speech Delivered in Kansas City

Kansas City, Sept. 6.—In his address before President Wilson said: "I came back from Paris bringing one of the greatest documents of human history. One of the things that made it great was that it was penetrated throughout with the principles to which America has devoted her life. Let me hasten to say that one of the most delightful circumstances of the work on the other side of the water was that I discovered that what we call American principles had penetrated to the heart and to the understanding, not only of the great peoples of Europe.

"I think I can say that one of the things that America has had most at heart, throughout her existence, has been that there should be substituted for the brutal processes of war, the friendly processes of consultation and arbitration, and that is done in the covenant of the league of nations. I am very anxious that my fellow citizens should realize that this is the basis of the covenant of the league of nations, the greater part of its provisions.

Arbitration Before War

"The whole intent and purpose of the document are expressed in the provisions by which all the member states agree that they will never go to war without first having done one or other of two things, either submitted the matter in controversy to arbitration, in which case they agree to abide by the verdict, or submit it to discussion, in the case of the league of nations, and for that purpose they consent to allow six months for the discussion, and whether they like the opinion expressed or not, that they will not go to war for three months after that expiration has been expressed, so that you have, whether you get arbitration or not, nine months discussion, and I want to remind you that this is the central principle of some 30 treaties entered into between the United States of America and some 30 other sovereign nations, all of which are confirmed by the senate of the United States.

Germany Refused.

"We have such an agreement with France; we have such an agreement with Great Britain, we have such an agreement with the United States."

Coal Dock Workers Do Not Accept New Terms

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Duluth, Minn., Sept. 6.—Coal dock workers, on strike for over a month, last night voted unanimously not to accept the new terms presented by coal dock operators, which terms had been expected to end the strike. What the new conditions of the operators were, have not been made public. A further attempt will be made to handle coal at docks with strike-breakers. It is stated by dock operators, to check a serious coal famine threatened in the northwest this winter.

PRESIDENT MAKES PLEA FOR TREATY

STATE LEGISLATURE COMPLETED SPECIAL WORK BY FRIDAY NIGHT.

BLUE SKY LAW CHANGES O. K.'ED

Session Cut Short By Elimination Of Business Not In Call.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 6.—President Wilson appeared before a Kansas city crowd today to support the peace treaty as a charter for a new order of world affairs.

Making his third speech for the treaty in Missouri, before a capitol audience, President Wilson spoke in Convention hall, said to accommodate 16,000.

When the president, accompanied by Mrs. Wilson, appeared on the platform of the auditorium, the crowd, each person in which had a small American flag, arose and cheered for more than two minutes.

Mr. Wilson was introduced by R. A. Parsons, president of the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce.

Covers Same Points.
The president covered many of the same points of the treaty he had discussed in previous addresses. He said he had come to report to the people direct about the greatest documents in human history. The treaty, he said, had been "shot through" with American principles put there by the common consent of the world.

One of the things America had had in heart throughout her whole existence, said the president, was that arbitration and consultation should be substituted for force. This was accomplished, he declared, by the league of nations covenant.

Nine months of discussion of an international covenant would be assured under the covenant, he asserted, adding that this principle previously had been written into 30 arbitration treaties, "all of which were confirmed by the United States senate." The principle of the league, he declared, already had been adopted by the United States.

Emphasizes Boycott.

The boycott imposed on covenant breakers was emphasized by the president as a measure more effective than military force. The "most conclusive" thing that could happen to a nation, he continued, was "to be read out of decent society."

Effect of agreement would be accomplished under the covenant, Mr. Wilson predicted, declaring it was ridiculous to talk of the league as tending to war rather than peace. The league, he declared, would mean the end of the "military clan" throughout the world forever.

"There is no other way to dispense with great armaments without an agreement by the great nations of the world," said Mr. Wilson, "and here is the agreement."

There would be no war, and the intrigue which terrorized Europe for generations would be ended. He declared that "democracies will sooner or later have to destroy the kind of government, and if we don't do it now the job will be before us."

Crowds Greet Wilson.

The special train bearing President Wilson and his family arrived here from St. Louis at 9:05 o'clock this morning.

Long before the president and his party were met by a red carpet committee, a large crowd was gathering on the Union station plaza, where the parade through the downtown streets was to start. Led by the Seventh Regiment band, and the machine gun battalion, the party left Union station in automobiles shortly after the arrival of the special train.

President Wilson and Mrs. Wilson with Governor Gardner and Mayor Cowgill of Kansas City were in the first car.

SOCIAL EVENTS

The golden wedding anniversary of Prof. and Mrs. W. D. Parker, was honored by friends at Pasadena, Calif., August 26. The affair was given in the gardens of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Williams, nearly half a century, a notable figure in educational circles in Wisconsin. He was president of the state normal school at River Falls for 15 years; superintendent of the state school for the blind, superintendent of the school for the deaf, superintendent of the state board of regents and a member of the state board of regents of normal schools, and he also held other positions of importance.

The company was entertained with a program of short talks by former associates of Professor Parker, and with musical numbers. A feature of the afternoon was the presentation of a basket of flowers to the honoree by Mrs. James F. France, Eagle Rock, who was associated with Professor Parker in the River Falls normal. Hidden beneath the blossoms was a purse filled with gold, the gift of a Pogo, a member of the River Falls faculty, also presented a gift of gold, in the name of the normal school.

Many congratulations were received by Professor and Mrs. Parker, among them being greetings from Ella Wheeler Wilcox, a cousin of Professor Parker, and Carrie Jacobs Bond, who was a former Janesville resident, a frequent visitor at the Parker home.

About 75 women enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. J. H. Hooper at the Blind yesterday. They met in groups at the park and were taken over in the automobiles of the members. Mrs. R. W. Edden and Mrs. J. A. Adair, being in charge of the transportation. The affair was in the form of a one o'clock luncheon. The tables were spread on the lawn and the meal was served at the residence.

The following committee was in charge of arrangements: Mrs. J. P. Thorne, Mrs. W. H. Arnold, Mrs. T. O. Howe, Mrs. George Harrington, Henry Tall and Miss Helen Taylor.

After luncheon a trip was made through the building. A short business meeting was held in the afternoon at which Mrs. H. A. Faust presided. Mrs. Hooper, chairman of the program committee, made a brief explanation of the program, which is to be on American literature. Mrs. J. H. Hooper was elected a member of the organization, and a letter was read by Miss Carrie Zeisinger from one of the French orphans supported by the club. It was voted to renew the subscription for one orphan, and Miss Charlotte Pritchard took up a collection to help pay for it.

The marriage of Miss Catherine B. Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Jones, 102 Forest Park boulevard, and George D. Porter, Watworth, took place this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The officiating service was read by Rev. W. E. Davidson, Crystal Lake, Ill. It was a small, intimate affair, only relatives and a few intimate friends attending. A lunch was served at 4:30, after which Mr. and Mrs. Porter left for their new home at Riverside, Ill.

Miss Vera Mooser, 520 Prairie avenue, entertained the Wendat Canni "Blue Girls" Friday evening at her home. Games and dancing were enjoyed. Miss Mooser served a lunch during the evening.

A bridge club will meet at the Country club Monday. A luncheon will be served at one o'clock and bridge played in the afternoon. If any of the members are unable to attend they are asked to notify Mrs. W. T. Van Kirk, 225 Milton avenue.

The Woman's Mission circle of the Baptist church met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. B. F. Dunwiddie, 441 Madison street. A missionary program was taken up. At the close the hostess served refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Stokes, Evansville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Iva Stokes, to Clayton E. Davidson, Crystal Lake, Ill. He has just arrived home from service with the marines.

Miss Beulah McPherson and Fred were married in Rockford, Sept. 3. They are Beloit young people and are well known in Janesville, where they are frequent visitors.

Little Miss Charlotte Rogers, Honie Park avenue, is celebrating her fourth birthday today. She invited 16 little friends for the afternoon. Different games were played and children's refreshments were served. She was presented with a number of gifts in honor of the occasion.

Mrs. J. W. Jacobson, Dane, who has been the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Davis, Beloit road, will return to her home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Wheelock and daughter, 605 Court street, have gone to Geneva lake, where they have taken a cottage for September.

Mrs. Sarah Childs, 225 South Main street, had the misfortune to fall down stairs and fracture her shoulder blade. She is now at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hiram Murdock, 121 South Second street.

INCINERATOR OR REDUCTION PLANT
URGED FOR CITY

"Janesville must build an incinerator or a reduction plant if the garbage problem is to be solved," Dr. B. H. Warren, garbage expert of Detroit said today in discussing the disposal of refuse in this city. Dr. Warren is head of health district No. 1 of Detroit including four Gross Point villages. He is a former resident of Janesville and said he would be glad to give the local city officials all the help necessary to help solve the garbage question.

Dr. Warren said that the collecting and disposal of garbage must be a city proposition and not placed in the hands of any firm or individual.

"If Janesville is to solve the problem the city council must take it upon its own shoulders to handle the proposition and not attempt to let anyone else have charge of it," he said.

Dr. Warren said that by building an incinerator the city would have to pay to have the garbage hauled away. If a reduction plant should be decided upon the city also derives some revenue as the garbage is reduced to commercial fertilizer.

"One of the first steps to necessary regulation garbage cans for all citizens. Then the question of collecting the refuse must be taken up and in a town the size of Janesville I would believe that the downtown district should be covered each day."

"Janesville is going to grow and there is not the slightest doubt but that the population will be nearly 50,000 in five years and will probably amount to 100,000 in ten years. If an incinerator or reduction plant is built should build one as if Janesville was a city of 75,000 and then grow up to it and not build a small one and have to enlarge it every few years."

LOCAL BUTCHERS
ARE NOT ON STRIKE

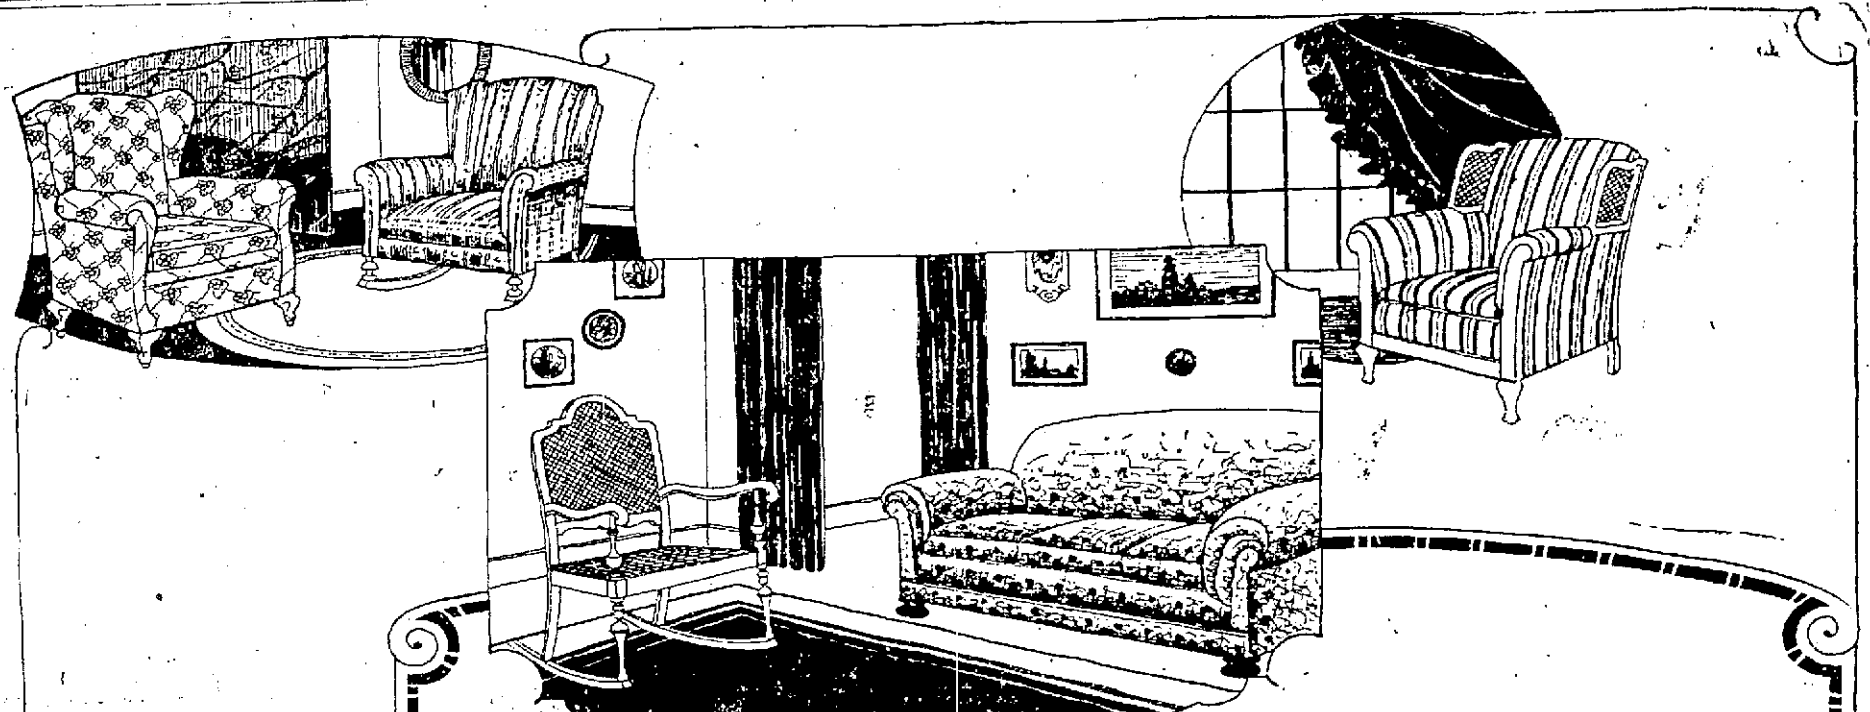

Janesville butchers are not on a strike and they are not even contemplating on a walkout, according to a statement made today by Charles Blum. Rumors were rife about the city this morning that the meat cutters voted at their meeting last night to strike for higher wages and Wednesday afternoons off throughout the year.

Mr. Blum, one of the charter members of the local butchers' union, said that he had no idea where the story started or who was responsible for it. "We simply organized a union in Janesville and have never even discussed a strike," Mr. Blum said.

Men and women working in lard-rendering, whether gathering it or distilling it, are said never to suffer from neuralgia or nervous headaches. Lavender is as good as a sea voyage for giving tone to the system.

Elegance and Distinction
in Leath-Luxe
TAPESTRY FURNITURE

The luxurious beauty of Leath-Luxe, overstuffed tapestry furniture will lend distinction of the highest order to every home. The superb designs, the exclusive patterns, the magnificence that distinguishes our overstuffed furniture from the ordinary kind, is the result of our own painstaking thoroughness in its manufacture.

Made by Hand in Our Own Factory
of Finest Materials Throughout

Every piece of Leath-Luxe tapestry furniture is made in our own factory at Elgin, under the supervision of experts. The careful handwork of master workmen, combined with the best of materials, enables us to turn out furniture that is beyond comparison for beauty and serviceability—and at prices that are much more reasonable than would be possible otherwise.

Only the very best genuine SUNFAST Orinoka tapestry is used in upholstering Leath-Luxe furniture—the highest priced tapestry made in America. If you want the very best—you want Leath-Luxe.

EXTRA SPECIAL—

For next week we are featuring a special value in a beautiful Leath-Luxe over-stuffed tapestry suite—davenport, chair and rocker—a rich design—built on honor. Offered at much under regular price.

COMMUNITY SERVICE.

During the war the necessity for some attempt to ameliorate the strangeness of the community to those suddenly drawn by the war to the military camps and to munition factories from distant parts of the country was recognized. The budget of sympathy, which by melancholia, which arises from loneliness,
and of distempers, physical and moral,
that come from discontent was appreciated as a serious problem, and an attempt came to meet it by what came to be known as the community service. This service did real effective work during the war. How much efficiency it salvaged may never be known, but its work was satisfactory everyone acquainted with it recognized.

One of the compensations of a great war intelligently conducted is the fact that it makes absolutely intolerable certain evils which were borne before, because they were half tolerable. War compels us to seek an immediate remedy, even a revolutionary remedy, with respect to social conditions for evils which we regarded, but paltered with. The whole community during the war is shot through and through with a sense of public service, and it is, therefore,
easier to get motion out of our citizens—to get them to undertake community service that costs money, when peace times they might quibble over it and postpone it.

Now the danger is that in the return of peace will come the return of negligence and indifference towards social wrongs. That the more fortunate will forget Cain's answer, "I am not my brother's keeper," will not do in this year of our Lord, and the community which gives that answer some day will have to pay the penalty which overtakes the community as an individual when guilty of unenlightened short-sighted intelligence. The impetus which the war gave us in the right directions should be preserved.
One of the things which we ought to preserve is the community service.
Its beneficiaries will not be confined to the workers in the munition factories or in the military camps, but to the whole community, and the common friend between himself and his neighbor whom he wants to know, and who needs all the things that the community service has shown itself able to give the community which it serves.

STRIKES.

The following able analysis of the strike situation is from the pen of Henry Clews, New York banker:
"This is not a time to strike for higher wages and shorter hours. The thing to do is to increase production by working harder, even if the working day is longer, which will automatically reduce the price of necessary commodities and increase the purchasing power of the dollar.
Therefore, if we have cheaper living present wages will be more than adequate on account of the increased purchasing power of money. This eruption of strikes all over the country, in fact, all over the world, is becoming a craze and if continued in will end in detriment to the laboring classes, rather than benefit."
The masses in this country derive the greatest benefit in times of prosperity, not in times of adversity such as these strikes if left to work themselves to the end are likely to bring about. Learn the fate of Germany, Russia and Austria-Hungary, all before the war prosperous nations, but by the war prostrated almost to the dust, while the rest of the world was crippled most seriously, even including ourselves. What was the war that produced this great disaster? Nothing but a big strike, and which we all know now was a signal failure for the originators of it. If common sense had prevailed all the vexed questions could have been amicably settled by arbitration; and all labor troubles could, and should, be settled in the same way.

With two soldier bonus bills coming this week, one for the vote of the people, a second at the special session of the legislature, the returned service men and women of the Badger state, which has rung true to every call, should not be feeling the cold blasts of a lonely and forgotten world.
The soldier bonus bill provides $10 for every month in service. The New educational bill provides $30 for every month in school for those wishing to continue their education. The two aids are not to be granted to any one person.

J. A. Steiner, the new secretary of the Y. M. C. A., is a man in whom the mothers and fathers of Janesville place their confidence. The Y. M. C. A. is more and more developing the grip on the youths and its influence in their desiring to follow only the clean and happy path. Mr. Steiner will find Janesville boys well organized and ready to do their part. Mr.
Steiner comes to us with the assurance that he is equal to his part.
The future manhood of Janesville has bright prospects.

From all reports Wilson is out on a flight to the finish job. Shirt sleeves rolled up, he is going at it with his teeth, serving as his butting rod.
Oval faces crowd the president at all stops. But then, celebrities always did draw a crowd for their own sakes more than for what they had to say.

The nation's capital is getting ready for the royal welcome to be extended to General Pershing and the first division, the hero division of the Yank
army, when they invade Washington, Sept. 17. President Wilson will have to send his regrets. Too much going on in this little world for one president to attend to.

Kansas farmers are enthusiastic about Badger farms, particularly the dairying farms. From what is said about Kansas, the farms down that way aren't the beauty spots of the world. Badger methods are going away from home, spreading their influence among these westerners, who plan to shift their farm industries
from grain growing to dairying.

The new Chamber of Commerce manager, George F. Wells, who will be officially introduced to Janesville business men, at the C. of C. luncheon Monday, should be extended the glad hand backed by a cooperative arm, ready to buck the future shoulder to shoulder.

Their Opinions

The senators opposed to the treaty are overlooking a bet. The treaty as drawn including the league of nations covenant provides no self-determination for our American Indians and no guarantee of rights for negro voters in southern states. The Indians and the negroes have much better grounds for complaint than some of the subjects of other nations to whose claims the senate is listening gravely.—Wau-saw Record-Herald.

So shoes are not going up next winter, after all. The shoe dealers say so. Which is quite a change from their former forecast, and goes to show that the national uprising against high prices is having some effect.—Appleton Crescent.

It is possible that some of the politicians who are now clearing out the food hoards, will be shouting before long because there are not stocks enough of food to carry the people through the winter.—Marquette Eagle-Star.

Wisconsin prosperity has been materially augmented this season by the money distributed by touring autoists.
This is a benefit, moreover, that is bound to increase with the years to come.—Oshkosh Northwestern.

The unprecedented forest fires in the west seem to have occasioned no concern at Washington. The sleuth should have been put to work.—Ra-dine Journal News.

Five million Germans have officially grate. And you can't blame them, either.

But where in all this wide world
will they be welcome?—Madison

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

LIFE'S ALL.

What more do you want from life than this—
The gentle thrill of a loved one's kiss,
And the faith of all who love you,
Friends to share in your joy or woe,
A home with laughter and peace
aglow?

What more than these can the rich man know
Who sets himself above you?

What more do you want from your stretch of years
Than the many smiles for the few sad tears
Which are born of the common sorrows?

Though you grieve today, you shall live to sing
And the richest man or the proudest king Cannot truly say what the night shall bring
Or fashion his own tomorrows.

If you sleep at night on your sheltered bed,
If you have raiment and meat and
bread,
Then away with ceaseless fretting!
If you can romp with your children
small,
Or sit with the friends who have come
to call,
By the fire you build, then you have all
That the richer men are getting.

So set your hopes on the simple things
And the common joys which a good life brings.
And work for the few who love you.
If peace abides in your home at night
And you have strength for your daily
fight,
You have all that can come to the man of might
Who sets himself above you.

Army of Occupation Is Not to Be Enlarged

COBLENZ, Thursday, Sept. 4.—The German territory to be controlled by American forces in conformity with the decision of Marshal Foch, announced yesterday, comprises an area of about 2,400 square kilometers. This territory is virtually the same as when General Pershing some weeks ago recommended for allotment as capable of being handled by the Americans without an increase of their forces. The total area occupied by the allies is 37, 600 square kilometers.

The American units will not be used outside the occupied zone without specific orders from Washington.

SIN-EATERS.
In certain isolated parts of Bavaria
the old and formerly widespread custom of eating the sins of the dead is still practiced. A "corpse cake" is placed on the breast of the dead person, and is then eaten by the nearest relative, who is supposed in this way
to consume the sins of the departed,
and to allow his soul to enter Paradise
purified.

In the Balkan peninsula, which is one of the most barbaric parts of modern Europe, a bread image of the deceased is made and is eaten at the funeral by the surviving members of the family. It is not improbable that the custom survives in other out-of-the-way parts of the world. In the seventeenth century it was practiced by the Dutch in our own New York.

who made "dead cakes," often marked with the initials of the dead man, to be eaten by those present at the funeral.

Probably the true significance of the custom was more than half lost in this case, but in the highlands of Scotland and in some parts of Wales sin-eating was a profession not more than half a century ago. The professional sineater went to every house where a death occurred. A bit of bread or cheese was laid on the breast of the dead and then handed to the sin-eater, who ate it. He was then immediately paid for his services, and thrown bodily out of the house.

Q. Has Finland been recognized by the United States? T. F.
A. Finland has been recognized and has sent a minister to Washington. His name is A. H. Saastamoinen.

Q. What percent of the people are regular attendants at moving picture shows? Y. F. C.
A. Motion picture producers estimate that 20 percent of the people are habitual movie goers. They base their faith in the future of the business upon a belief that eventually 60 percent of the people will get the habit.

Q. When did the federal reserve bank system come into operation?
M. R.
A. The federal reserve act was passed in 1913 and became effective in 1914. It was regarded as an outgrowth of the panic of 1907, of the Aldrich-Vreeland investigation and the emergency currency act.

Q. How can hair be removed other than by shaving? P. N. N.
A. There are various applications,
the active agent in which is quicklime,
that will "eat up" hair and take it off.
This leaves the roots, of course, and the hair will grow out again. The time is also hard on the skin. Hair may be taken out permanently by the expert use of an electric needle developed for the purpose.

Q. Are there American steamship lines to the Dutch West Indies? Y. D.
A. Before the war British and Dutch ships carried all the Dutch East

India trade and whatever America got from that part of the world came through Europe. During the war the Pacific offered a safer highway for tapioca, pepper, rubber, buffalo hides,
tea, coconut oil, quinine, nutmegs,
sugar, and American ships were sent for these supplies and the trade grew to $80,000,000 a year. Now an attempt is being made to hold this trade.

Q. What was Abraham Lincoln's ancestry? T. N. T.
A. Abraham Lincoln was American born of parents of English extraction.

Q. What opportunity for employment does the merchant marine offer?
R. J. J.
A. The merchant marine is offering employment to men between 18 and 35, paying them $30 a month plus their apprenticeship, and shipping them to a different port each cruise.

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO MRS. THOMPSON, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Just a year ago I met a young man whom I loved very much, or at least I thought I did. At first he wanted me all right, but later he got angry and didn't talk to me for two months. Then we became friends again, but I met another fellow who is now a neighbor to me. One time he came over to my house and asked me to kiss him and even when I refused he kissed me. Do you think it was right for him to kiss me? He says he cares for me. He has started to talk to me. Whenever I pass him in a crowd of boys they say "Look, here he is. Why not go with him?" and then he gets bashful and hides himself and his place he can so that I will not see him.

Please advise me what to do, go with the first or second? I am only fifteen and the second fellow is seventeen. I like the first one better. I am too young to go with boys. If, however, you expect to do it, there is no reason why you should go with only one. Your friends will not be angry if you go with two. Your reputation depends upon your conduct now.

Do nothing to make the first young man come back. If he shows, of course, that he would like to, but should not ask for a girl's love without your making any effort to get him back. The second young man should not have kissed you against your will. Do not permit such a thing to happen again. Do not let him come to see you.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl seventeen years of age. There are a few boys I would like to go with, but my parents say I am too young. I don't think I am.

I like to go to parties, but my parents will not let me, because they are afraid I will go with some boy. I don't think I am too young. I am only fifteen. I soon will be eighteen and if I leave home, can they make me come back home?

I am writing to a boy, twenty years of age, but my parents do not know that I wrote to him. If they did they would not let me write. What shall I do?

Your parents are not at all unreasonable; many girls do not go with boys until they are eighteen or older. You have not earned your parents' confidence and until you do they will probably be exacting about your conduct. You cannot do things secretly and expect them to trust you.

I would advise you to obey them absolutely until you are eighteen. When they are willing to respect their wishes, they will be more apt to see your point of view. You and your parents antagonize each other.

If you leave home when you are eighteen, they cannot force you to return. They would be extremely foolish to do such a thing, however.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a boy in grade school. I like a young girl in my class. Last fall people teased her about having a "fellow." She will not speak to me now. I would like to speak to her, but I am afraid she will not. I am sorry now and would like her to forgive me. I wrote one note to her, but didn't get an answer. What shall I do?

Girls in grade school are too young to have a "fellow." Most of them know this, and so if some boy shows a particular interest they are annoyed and embarrassed.

Do a boy until you are in high school at least. A boy of your age should study and play with boys and forget about girls.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO DR. BRADY, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE.

ARE WOMEN CREDULOUS?

Letter from a reader:

"I am 22 years old and have nearly always suffered so with my periods that I have been compelled to remain in bed. There was no particular difficulty when the function first established itself, but I began to suffer more and more after a year. We have tried all sorts of remedies but nothing seems to produce any permanent results. The family doctor tells me that it is perfectly natural for a girl to suffer so, but I know better for my cousin, a year older, has never had any trouble whatever. I remember, too, when we were younger her mother never attempted to keep her in bed, but let her do as she pleased during the periods, while my mother always made me take all sorts of precautions to avoid overdoing or taking cold. My cousin was a great tomboy and I have known her to go in bathing in quite cold water at her periods, without any apparent bad effect. Why is it that one girl must be almost an invalid and another have no trouble at all from menstruation? It seems to me that doctors don't understand women very well."

And right, the young woman is. Doctors don't.

"Tomboy" girls, be it hereby made known, are far less susceptible to menstrual and other difficulties of the sex than are mollycoddled, prim, precociously dignified girls.

The young woman's cousin was blessed with a mother who possessed a grain of good sense. The cousin was not given to understand that because she belongs to the credulous, weak, the "delicately organized" sex she must conduct herself as a sort of potential invalid. Her mother, evidently, didn't think of the girl's sex as a variable state.

There is no reason whatever why any sensible girl able to swim at any time shouldn't swim at the time of her menses. Safer, would you not say, "When such healthful exercise as swimming is passed up for such a reason the chances are that the girl will suffer more or less because of her credulity, her weakness, her sex."

Volunteers from the women's section of the mayor's celebration committee of Newark, N. J., assisted in the opening of distributing stations for the selling of bacon put on the market by the war department at about 20 cents less than present retail price per pound.

Mrs. Alexander Kehut is chairman of the re-employment council of the U. S. employment service in New York and seems to be especially gifted in discovering the abilities and requirements of soldiers and sailors.

FOR BREAKFAST.

Egg Variations.—Tomato Omelet.—One cup of stewed tomato, two tablespoons of cooked rice, three eggs, salt, pepper, paprika.
Mix the tomato, rice, seasoning. Separate the whites of eggs from yolks, beating both separately, but thoroughly. When the whites are beaten until stiff and dry gently fold into the yolks, but do not mix too thoroughly. Pour into a hot greased pan, then pour in the tomato mixture and fold over like a plain omelet. Serve very hot.

A cheese omelet can be made the same way, sprinkling one tablespoon of grated cheese over the omelet when in the pan. In fact, almost any leftover vegetables or other foods can be added—like asparagus tips cold, chopped chicken or other chopped meat, cooked oysters, sardines, sausage, etc.

An excellent breakfast dish is the imitation Welsh rarebit, and it is far more wholesome to eat this the first thing in the morning when starting off to work than late at night. A tomato, bread and butter, something on the order of rarebit is.

Eggs a la Russe.—Two eggs, hard boiled; one cup of grated cheese, one and one-half cups of cream sauce, salt, cayenne, one-tenth teaspoon of dry mustard. Add the seasoning to the hot cream sauce, the chopped eggs and cheese. Stir constantly over a slow fire until cooked like rarebit, then pour over hot toast and serve at once.

Baked Omelet.—One pint milk heated. Butter size of walnut melted in milk. Teaspoon flour, wet with cold milk and stirred into eggs with pepper and salt to taste. Pour over this hot milk and butter and put all into a baking crock heated and greased. Bake in oven fifteen to twenty minutes and serve at once.

SIDE TALKS

—BY—
RUTH CAMERON

AND THE BOYS WERENT WHOLLY TO BLAME.

Did you read in your newspaper a week ago the story of how two young youth, a boy and a girl, were taken down the coast road near Mount Washington on a bicycle and killed?

Probably you read it. And were shocked and horrified like the rest of the reading public at the perfectly needless waste of human life—the absolutely unnecessary anguish for mothers and fathers and sisters and brothers hearts.

And if the boys had succeeded in his daredevil stunt, what would you, what would their friends have said? You would probably have encouraged by admiration.

You and they would probably have laughed indulgently and said, "The young daredevils! What weren't these youngsters doing?" In fact, many of their friends would probably have gone beyond the indulgent to the admiring. And perhaps some enterprising moving picture house would even have gotten them to do it again for film purposes.

There was a third boy who refused to try this wild stunt. He walked down. He is alive today and everyone commends him for his common sense in realizing that the plan would not hold to the rails. But if, by some miracle, the others had arrived at the bottom alive, would people have admired him? Now, they would probably have thought he lacked proper spirit and "pep."

There is unquestionably something brilliant about the daredevil trait in human nature, something dazzling—also something flashy and mercenary.

The World Does Rightful Homage to These.

To have death to save another's life or to demonstrate some scientific truth or to add to the knowledge of the world, is very splendid. The world does homage to those who can think highly of their own lives for a high purpose.

But to risk death (or mutilation) and all the unhappiness that it would bring others for no higher purpose than to show how "brave" and "smart" you are—surely there is nothing fine, but everything that is cheap, childish and unbalanced about that.

I call the boy who refused to take that silly which his judgment showed him was a foolhardy thing to do the bravest of the three.

The Foolhardy Swimmer Is Both Silly and Selfish.

Pardon more such risks, foolish risks, often involve others—as, for instance, in the case of a foolhardy swimmer who goes beyond his strength and then either receives assistance from those who risk their lives (and perhaps lose them) to save his, or leaves the bystanders under an imputation (unfair, I think) of cowardice.

I think the public attitude towards foolhardiness when it is successful is altogether too lenient. If we could make these boys fear they were doing something cheap and silly and childish when they gamble their mothers and fathers' happiness—the debt they owe their parents for their upbringing, as well as their own lives—for the sake of a moment's excitement, think we would help stop that sort of thing.

True, one does not want youths (or men or women of any age, for that matter) to stamp out the spark of adventure. But one does want them to use some judgment and some sense of values in selecting the adventure.

With either Walter Buckley or Cy Young pitching, the rejuvenated Janes will battle the Lake Shore league leaders at Manitowoc tomorrow afternoon in what promises to be the big battle of the season for the home club. Buckley, a Milwaukee product, has been hurling good ball for the Moosehead club in the Western Canada league this season, while Young is the crack pitcher of the Rockford aggregation in the Three-Rys league. Hank Schmidt of Milwaukee, lately returned from overseas, will be on hand to help in case he is wanted. Schmidt was supposed to have pitched against Sheboygan, Labor day, but he failed to appear as it was found necessary to stick Elmer in the box again, after the Rube had already pitched Saturday and Sunday. Sam Lengquist, who pitched the June 12 victory for Janes, is expected to be in the lineup, but he has been found to be too slow for Lake Shore company, as have some of the others.

Every effort is being made to put a winning team in the field for the rest of the season. The Jinx, which has been following the club for the past three weeks will be shaken tomorrow. It is hoped.

Fox May Play
The line-up was decidedly indefinite early today, but it seems probable that the Janes will have the strongest team they have had this year, when they face the Hoosier champions tomorrow. "Squirt" Rice will probably do heavy duty back of the plate with a possibility of Fox, famous Samson tractor star, at short. Elmer, the victor in the Northwestern league or Pierce will cover that position in case Fox is not secured. Either Berrigan or Gorman, both Madison men, will cover first with Eddie Aaron on second and Peter Schmitt at third, making up what is believed to be an invincible infield.

Biglow, another Samson star who has traveled in fast company, will cover left field with Keith holding down the center booth and either Viney or Kakuske in right.

The last time Manitowoc and Janesville met was in this city when the Herzogs won a 4-0 victory. Full revenge for this defeat is the hope of the team.

FAIRY APPRENTICES PLAY RAILS SUNDAY

The Rails are scheduled to meet the Fairbanks-Morse Apprentices of Beloit at the fair grounds tomorrow afternoon, the only game of the day in the city. "Skipper" Pire is billed to slant them for the engine crew with a victory or receive. The game will begin at 2.30.

BRINGING UP FATHER

TY COBB LOOKS LIKE 1919 BATTING CHAMP OF AMERICAN LEAGUE

(By Associated Press.)
Chicago, Sept. 6.—As the clubs of the American league swing into the final month of the pennant race, Ty Cobb is driving for the batting championship, which, with the exception of two seasons, has been in his possession for twelve years.

Unofficial averages released today show the celebrated Georgian hitting .371—21 points ahead of Oscar Vecch, his teammate and closest batting rival. In 104 games, Cobb has whiffed only 155 safe blows for a total of 220 bases. Thirty of Ty's hits went for two bases, while eleven were of the three-bagger variety, and one home run. The averages include games of Wednesday.

"Dabe" Ruth, the averages show, is within one home run of tying the world's four-bagger record of two, set by Cobb in 1907. In addition to driving out twenty-four homers, Ruth tops the league in total base hitting. He has stretched 118 hits bugged in 141 games for a total of 240 bases, 200 of which are singles. His home run record is topped off with 26 two-base hits and a dozen triples.

George Sisler, the St. Louis star, continues to show the way to the base stealers with 27, with Harry Hooper of Boston runner-up with 25. Eddie Collins of Chicago, is third with 24. Chapman of Cleveland is the leading sacrifice hitter with 44.

Other leading American league batters for forty or more games: Jackson, Chicago, .348; Sisler, St. Louis, .345; Peckinpaugh, New York, .340; Jacobson, St. Louis, .334; Fowler, New York, .325; Shorten, Detroit, .315; Ruth, Boston, .318; Heilmann, Detroit, .317; Collins, Chicago, .315; Melvin, Boston, .315.

Ed Roush, the Cincinnati star, suffered a setback in his attack for the National league batting honors, dropping into third place with an average of .328. Cravath of Philadelphia clung to the lead, continuing with .349, while Thorpe of Boston swung back into second place with .324.

Roush, however, leads the league in total base hitting. Computing 116 games, the Reds' outfielder has slugged out 143 hits for a total of 398 bases. Heinie Groh, the Cincinnati third baseman, leads in scoring, having registered 75.

Other leading National league batters for forty or more games: Meusel, Philadelphia, .318; Groh, Cincinnati, .311; Doyle, New York, .302; Young, New York, .301; Myers, Brooklyn, .300; Deal, Chicago, .299; Barber, Chicago, .299; Stock, St. Louis, .297; McHenry, St. Louis, .297.

George of Columbus suffered the biggest batting slump among the leading batters of the American association. He dropped from eighth to eighteenth place, his average falling from .315 to .202. There was little change among the other leaders, who continued to be topped by Hendryx of Louisville, with .349. Backer and Goolsby, Kansas City teammates, are giving Hendryx a run for the batting honors, as they are in second and third place, respectively, with marks of .340 and .330.

Miller of St. Paul, who last week broke the tie for home run honors, has added another circuit drive to his string of fourteen. He also is far in front in total bases with .253. Miller of Kansas City, has registered 60 runs for his club and leads in this department. Bob Beschor of Louisville, with his 41 stolen bases, is far ahead of his rivals.

ALL-STARS ARE SET FOR FOOTVILLE GAME

With all hands in A-1 shape, the All-Stars are set for their game with the Footville Cubs at that village tomorrow afternoon. Footville's line-up could not be definitely announced today. The Stars' line-up will be as per usual.

With only three more games on the schedule, thoughts of the team are beginning to turn to basketball. Every member of the baseball team plans to try out for a place on the five.

Japanese women took part in recent strikes in Japan, which were a protest against the high prices of food.

WALWORTH

(By Gazette Correspondent.)
Walworth, Sept. 4.—John Dade, who works in Pontana for the Wilcox gravel company, was buried in the gravel pit Wednesday. His arm was broken and he was injured internally. He was taken to his home after being rescued from the debris of the cave-in.

Miss Violet Rusch has planned to attend Janesville Business college. Mrs. Amy Stillman remains quite ill. John Robinson has resigned his position with the C. H. & G. L. railway. The position will be filled by Frank Wheeler.

FIREPROOF AIRPLANE

Berlin—A new flying machine, made entirely of metal, and consequently proof against fire, the terror of aviators, is being displayed here. The main part of the machine is made of an aluminum compound and is very light. The motor is of 160 horsepower and gives the plane a speed of approximately 110 miles an hour.

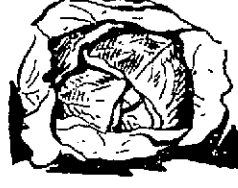

DRINKERS TURN TO CANDY

New York.—War time prohibition has caused the importation of sugar from Cuba to increase more than 100,000 tons a month due to the large amount of candy being eaten by former drinkers, according to Charles B. Stevens, who has just arrived from the island. The sugar crop in Cuba is a bumper one, Stevens adds.

For Solid Comfort
See that your home is heated with a Gilt-Edge furnace. Then you'll get plenty of heat without trouble, and hold down fuel costs.
Note These Gilt-Edge Features
Large Heating Surface and Long Fire Travel. These mean extracting all the heat possible from the fuel burned and sending it up through the heating pipes where it belongs.
Extra Large Free Air Space between furnace and casing and between the two jackets of the Gilt-Edge Pipeless Insures good circulation, and prevents waste of heat.
Anti-Chinker Grate. Easy to shake, eliminates danger of accidentally dumping fire into ash pit—grate bars always left in right position.
Large Ash Pit. Making it easy to remove ashes and preventing grates from burning out by lack of space between them and ashes below.
Extra Heavy Fire Pot. Cast in two pieces, allowing space for expansion and contraction due to heating and cooling. Can't crack or buckle. Smoke and gases can't escape into warm air pipes.
Large Water Pan. Big enough to provide sufficient moisture for the warm air, with which the rooms are heated.

WEEKLY REVIEW

Chicago, Sept. 6.—Big setbacks in the price of corn have taken place this week, largely owing to authoritative forecasts that the European ports were assured with foodstuffs for which money buyers could not be found, and the fact that the high cost of the United States had passed in the United States. Compared with a week ago, corn quotations have fallen 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 cts. In provisions the not much changed. In the market for hogs, a sharp decline in the price of the hog (head) was observed. A sharp decline in the price of the hog (head) was observed. A sharp decline in the price of the hog (head) was observed.

GRAIN

Chicago, Sept. 6.—Scarcity of offerings led to advances today in the grain market, especially for the September delivery. Preferred deliveries of corn were in demand, and the market was much mixed. As to whether corn values were to improve, the price was held steady. Opening prices ranged from 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cts. for No. 2 yellow corn, and 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cts. for No. 2 white corn. Nothing is too good for the smoker who uses our goods---we sought the best for them in these brands. We recommend the quality of the leaf and workmanship used. The bouquet and aroma recommend the cigars themselves.

THE JANESVILLE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE—A cigar that is fully up to the high standards set by The Janesville Chamber of Commerce. 12c each and up to 3 for 50c.

THE VALKYRIE CIGAR—A delightfully smooth mellow smoke. 11c each, up to 3 for 50c.

THE W. T. CO. CIGAR—Is good enough to bear our company monogram. No comebacks on this cigar. 6c each, up to 3 for 50c.

THE JOSE VILA CIGAR—A cigar of national reputation and universally liked as an Havana smoke. 11c each, up to 3 for 50c.

Obtainable Wherever Cigars Are Sold

All cigar dealers sell these brands because they know they are good cigars and because there is a constantly growing demand for each of the different brands.

Try some for your Sunday smoking.
